Travel back to the time of dinosaurs. Race through a flooded city. Ride dragons. Dare to enter the creepy house. Four complete adventures where YOU are the main character and each decision you make changes the story. Oh and watch out for T. rex, pirates, evil tharuks, and haunted washing machines!

Jess has been in love with her best friend, Kate, for seven years, but her feelings have never been returned. One night they sleep together, and Jess finds out how much it is possible to be hurt by someone close. Jess and Kate struggle to redefine their friendship. They spend a week at Jess's family holiday house in a small seaside town, Awatangi, intending to make the time to talk things through, but the conversations never happen. Kate makes vague promises, but begins to have second thoughts. Jess wants Kate, and nothing else, and is heartbroken that isn't enough. Jess decides — while everything is changing in her life — that she doesn't want to go on living in the city, that she wants to return to Awatangi. Part of her hopes some physical distance between them may help things with Kate, and part of her — frustrated and upset — simply wants to leave Kate behind. In Awatangi, Jess meets Keri, a local lawyer who has also recently returned home. Like Jess, Keri surfs, and like Jess, she seems to feel some attachment to her family roots in Awatangi. Jess is drawn to Keri, but forces herself not to let anything happen. Despite everything, Kate is still Jess's closest friend, and she has loved Kate all her life. She feels she has to give the situation with Kate as long as she can to work itself out. Awatangi is about coping with feelings for a close friend that are not returned, set in a small holiday township on the West Coast of the South Island of New Zealand. It is an exploration of getting what you've always wanted and it not being enough, of being in love with one person and wanting another, and of finding out that life doesn't always turn out as expected.

Ben is so close to his dream, but he has no one to share it with. He sees his Officers finding strong women who build and solidify their purpose-and his dream of a clean Brotherhood. Everyone is working and living peacefully within their drug free neighborhoods and community. They raise their kids to take care of each other and treat their women with respect. Kate runs the Women's Center within the MC's backyard. Ben admires Kate's strength, ability, and compassion running the Center and adopting kids from the shelters that would have gone into the system. Danny, Kate's husband, is Ben's Building Supervisor and number two High Security enforcer when he's needed. He's proven himself and earned respect from his Brothers and Ben. When Ben's old lady leaves he moves a few houses away from Kate and her family. He finds himself drawn to them and starts to wonder if he'll ever find a woman like Kate to share his life with. This is the story of Ben, Kate, and Danny. Content Warning: includes graphic language and sex, including m/f/m. Intended for mature audiences 18+

On a field trip to Montana you spot a meteorite falling from the sky. Heading out to find it starts a chain of adventures, including a trip back in time. Will you tell your teacher where you've been? Will you take him back to prove it? Will you find fossils? This You Say Which Way book is packed with prehistoric possibilities. Oh ... and watch out for the T. Rex, it's hungry!

Talsy and Chanter return to the peaceful vale, where she gives birth to his son - a creature of the chaos.

Travain has stunted Mujar powers and a Trueman personality, making him dangerous and unpredictable, and he is also angry at his father's apparent neglect. Mujar, however, do not care for their children, who are born fully formed and independent. Travain grows quickly, and is everything Chanter warned Talsy he might be. Chanter finds the last piece of the broken Staff of Law and makes it whole, but the laws are lost. His first son is born on the eastern continent they left behind so long ago, but he is blinded by strange golden lights in his mind. He names himself Law, and finds shelter in a hive of semi-ants. The next generation are manants, and attack him, forcing Law to flee into the chaos. In his search for shelter, he travels to the western continent, where Truemen capture him. The wind informs Chanter of his plight, and Talsy insists that they save him. That means venturing into the chaos once more, and now it is far worse than it was before.

Explore a Caribbean island where legend tells of a wrecked pirate ship carrying gold. At the end of each chapter you, the reader, will make a decision that will determine which direction the story takes. You can explore all the possible outcomes over time. Will you choose to investigate an old fortress, or will you head off into the jungle? Will you find pirate treasure, or will your decisions land you in trouble? There is only one way to find out, so get reading! This interactive story for ages 9 to 12 is rich in science and nature details. Watch your step! This is a book which doesn't play straight. The Magician's house is like that too - things move around. If you like things that are a little unpredictable then you'll love this book. Curl up and enjoy it. This book won't mind. Dreams swirl around in the Magician's house just like dust does in the corners of other houses. Little stories get stuck in the crannies. Just for a moment, while you are sweeping, you can find yourself running across a green field, steering an iron horse through twisty roads, or picking ripe strawberries
